The CSRT is seeking volunteers to fill two vacancies on its Scientific Program Committee. This nationally representative, arms-length committee reviews conference presentation proposals and determines the scientific program for the CSRT Annual Conference.

Interested applicants must send their CV along with a statement outlining why they wish to join the CSRT Scientific Program Committee to csrt@csrt.com by September 10, 2023.

Committee Members' Responsibilities:
- Review presentation proposals for content, relevance, evidence-informed basis, and ability to support the evolution and advancement of practice
- Moderate approximately 5-6 sessions during the CSRT Annual Conference (for those attending the conference)

Applicant Requirements:
- An understanding of current practice
- The ability to critically analyze presentation proposals for scientific merit and relevance to RT practice
- The ability to dedicate time to independently review presentation proposals and to participate in 1-2 committee meetings in October-November each year (total estimated time 40 hours)

Other Considerations:
- Membership in the CSRT will be considered an asset when selecting committee members.
- Terms are two years, renewable for a second term.
